State To Build $150,000 Recreation And Picnic Area At Thornton Beach

An area just west of Daly City, 3100 feet long, including fifty acres of land, has been officially named Thornton Beach State Park and will include picnic and recreation developments costing an estimated $150,000, THE RECORD learned exclusively today.

Action declaring Thornton Beach a state park comes nearly 10 years since the state set up its $15,000,000 matching fund program for development of beach recreation areas throughout California.

A full-time ranger was assigned to the area last week and will patrol the beach and attempt to maintain its cleanliness until the time money is allocated for the actual development.

The ranger is Glen Jackson, formerly stationed at George J. Hatfield state park in Merced county.

Purchase Supplies

Supplies and material to start clean-up of the beach, long a blighted area and site for many criminal activities, were purchased last week and preliminary work was scheduled to start Monday, according to a representative of the state division of beaches and parks.

The park area will extend from the location across from the Olympic club in San Francisco county, 3100 feet south through Daly City and into San Mateo county.

The park will be for day use only, with picnic tables, barbecues, water and sanitary facilities and parking for an estimated 200 vehicles to be provided. Charge for use of the picnic facilities will be 35 cents a day. Construction of access roads and ramps will bring total cost of the project to approximately $150,000.

Budget In 1956-57

WHO APPROVED SUB-STANDARD SEWER HOOK-UP?

The job of fixing responsibility for sub-standard sewer installations in southeastern Daly City was placed in the laps of the city council Monday night by E. J. Fanti, 161 Valley street.

Fanti said that he and a neighbor at 149 Valley, had been having regular sewer trouble, and at one time his basement had flooded.

"They told me the trouble was a broken line in the back yard. Now I discover you're not allowed to have a sewer in the back yard."

Lines Doubled Up
He then revealed that homes on his street were doubled-up on sewer lateral lines leading to trunk lines. "This is not right," he said. "How did this get past city inspection. The records should show if my house and my neighbor's are both hooked up to one sewer line."

Mayor Joseph Verducci said it was a problem of the North San Mateo County Sanitation district, but Councilman Sanford Vickers, a member of the sanitation district board, pointed out that the district wasn't formed until 1951, while the homes involved were constructed. (Continued on Page 2)

District Welfare Is Topic Friday For Schools Meeting

League for Better School will convene Friday at 8 p.m. at Daly City hall for the first meeting of the school year.

The meeting was inadvertently listed as scheduled for last Friday. "General Welfare of the Jefferson Elementary School District" will be discussed by H. Z. Weibel, district superintendent.

The league, a group dedicated to placement of qualified persons in school board trustee positions, extends an invitation for all interested persons to attend.

Representatives of all civic, religious and social organizations in the district make up the membership of the league. Newly-formed organizations who are not represented on the league are urged to send delegates.

In addition to Weibel's talk, other items up for discussion include proposed revision of bylaws and nomination of officers for the coming year.

School Moves To Acquire Doelger Land

At a special, un-announced meeting Monday night, Jefferson Elementary School district board initiated action to secure "seven or eight acres" of land from Henry Doelger for a school site, and promised to start condemnation proceedings for the land if no "satisfactory" reply was received from the builder within five days.

On motion of Trustee Hartley Appleton, the board ordered a letter sent to Doelger corporation stating that, "The board feels compelled to obtain a seven or eight acre school site at the intersection of San Pedro road, Edgemar road and Skyline boulevard."

The motion carried the stipula-

VETERAN POLICE officer Ed Heim (left) consults privately with Officer Henry Sundermann Friday morning after two citizens protested that Heim was "intoxicated" on duty and had attempted to give one of them a speeding citation for traveling 50 MPH, although the driver claimed to be doing only 35. Sundermann escorted Heim back to the police station, where he was then placed on suspension for "unofficer-like" conduct. Incident occurred on Mission street in the Colma area. Further investigation is pending. THE RECORD photo

MEN'S CLUB CHARGES CENTER RENTAL FEES WILL KILL BOXING HERE

Higher rental fees for Daly City community center adopted last week by the recreation commission came in for a lambasting at Monday night's council meeting by Walter Gillies, former recreation commissioner and representative of the OLPH Catholic Men's club.

The Men's club, which early this year sponsored a series of monthly amateur shows, will be affected by the higher fees set for use of the building. Under the previous

Two Policemen Hurt As Prowl Car Is Wrecked In Chase

Two Daly City police officers were injured Friday when their patrol car overturned in a three-car collision following a chase of a speeder along Mission street. The speeder escaped, and the two officers were unable to gain the license number, police said.

PAPER ALERTED ON FRIDAY INCIDENT

Ed Heim, 59-year-old Daly City police officer who has been a member of the force for 26 years was suspended Friday for "unofficer-like" conduct, after allegedly drinking intoxicants while on duty Friday.

Specifically, Heim was charged with violations of personal conduct rules 24 and 25, which prohibit an officer from drinking intoxicating liquor while on duty and entering a tavern except in the immediate discharge of duty, Chief Roland Petrocchi said.

His suspension came about in the following manner: At 11:30 a.m. Friday a man notified THE RECORD that a Daly City police officer was intoxicated on duty and was attempting to give his fiancée a speeding citation.

A member of THE RECORD staff responded to the scene, on Mission street in the Colma area, where Heim was writing out a ticket for a San Francisco woman. She refused to sign the citation, which charged her with traveling 50 miles an hour. Her fiancée, a Daly City man who was traveling in a vehicle directly behind hers, said the woman was only going 35 miles an hour.

The woman, claiming Heim was intoxicated, said she would not sign the citation until another officer arrived.

Meanwhile, Heim drew two lines through the citation and did not serve the woman with the ticket. He was photographed by THE RECORD. He then went to the nearby patrol car where he tossed the citation book on the front seat.

At this time, Officer Henry Sundermann arrived, talked briefly in private with Heim, then escorted him to the police station.

Heim was placed on immediate suspension by the chief, who said that further investigation would be made before exact length of the suspension was set.

Heim, who lives at 478 Irvington, has been a member of the force 26 years and is eligible for (Continued on Page 2)

WIFE OF JEFF HI COACH ASKS CITY $20,000 DAMAGES

A claim for $20,000 damages has been filed against the city by a local woman who allegedly fell on Mission street on July 6 when she was pregnant. The suit was filed on behalf of Mrs. Ruth Giammona, 109 Los Banos Street, and her unborn child.

The baby, a son, was born Sunday, however, with no apparent injuries. He weighed 7 pounds, 6 ounces, at his arrival at Mary's Help hospital. The father of Anthony Joseph Giammona, Jr., is Tony Giammona, coach and teacher at Jefferson Union High school.

In the claim presented the city, Mrs. Giammona states that she was walking on Mission north of Knowles avenue when she was "caused to fall on the broken, uneven and negligently maintained sidewalk."

The claim continues that she suffered bruises and abrasions of both knees and rupture of veins of the right leg. The claim also asked damages for the "possible injury to the unborn child."

NEW CHIEF FOR COLMA CONSIDERED

Council Avoids Daly City Request On Annexation

Colma Town council Wednesday night considered applications of three candidates for police chief, to fill the post vacated by Joseph Ryan, 48, who was hospitalized April 21 with a heart attack.

Ryan, chief and one-man-department for Colma for the past eight years, will not return to his post, according to Mayor Ray Otoboni.

It is believed that Albert Lagomarsino, Cypress Lawn employee, has made track for the job.

Since Ryan's illness, Donald Folan of Millbrae has been handling the police duties.

The chief position pays $400 a month.

The council is expected to fill the post at their November meeting.

Six Chinese Switch Pleas To Guilty; $900 Fine Is Levied

Six Chinese who had employed every legal maneuver to assert their innocence of charges of gambling in a Colma shack on June 6, did a turnaround in municipal court Tuesday and switched their pleas to guilty.

The orientals, arrested in a raid on a building at 7796 Mission by Broadmoor police, had pleaded not guilty and, after several continuances, had entered motions that the case be dismissed, that it be quashed because of evidence illegally obtained, and that the district attorney elect his cause.

Judge Thomas L. Bocci was scheduled to rule on the motions Tuesday but was spared the trouble when defense attorney James Purcell, appearing for three of his clients and three of John J. Fahey's, entered a guilty plea for the defendants.

The judge fined the entire group a total of $900. Since $884.55 was confiscated at the gambling den, the Chinese only had to add $15.45 to meet the amount.

Pleading guilty were: Nee Wong Foon, Gue Hong, Yee Yow Jing, Sammy J. Lee, Harry Chew, William Wong.

City Officials Work; But No Job In Minutes

Public works director Cyril Weiler and controller Jerome Scharfman were finally appointed to jobs Monday night that they had been working at nearly three months.

City Manager Howard Stites discovered that through "an omission in the minutes," on July 11 the establishment of the new positions was not noted officially.

City Clerk B. C. Ross maintained that the "council took no action" on the matter.

The situation was remedied by a motion legalizing the jobs, which was unanimously approved. City Attorney Frank Blum said he did not think the delay in establishing the jobs would pose any legal problem.

TICKET IN HAND, Officer Ed Heim is pictured Friday at incident which led to his suspension from Daly City police force for "unofficer-like" conduct. Specifically, Heim was charged with violation of sections 24 and 25 of personal conduct rules, which state that no officer shall drink intoxicating liquor on duty, or enter any place where intoxicating liquors are sold or furnished, except in the immediate discharge of duty. THE RECORD photo

JITNEY PUC HEARING HERE NEXT THURSDAY

Hearing on application of Northgate Transit Co. to operate their jitneys in unincorporated San Mateo county will be held next Thursday at Daly City hall, starting at 10 a.m.

The jitneys have been operating in Daly City for the past three months, but now seek to extend their operation into the Broadmoor-Colma area.

In order to do so, the firm must obtain a certificate of necessity from the state public utilities commission, which will conduct Thursday's hearing.

If the certificate is granted, jurisdiction over the jitneys will be removed from the hands of

JUDGE TO READ TRANSCRIPT IN HILLTOP CASE

November 3 is date set for hearing arguments in the Hilltop Lodge's legal action to restore its liquor license.

Superior Court Judge Edmund Scott set the November date last Thursday so that he would have time to read the lengthy transcript, compiled at several hearings before the board of equalization. The liquor license was revoked last spring on the grounds that narcotics were permitted on the premises. The appeals board of the state department of alcoholic beverage control upheld the revocation recently.

No arguments were given or evidence submitted at last Thursday's session.

John J. Fahey, attorney for the licensees, George and Ann Kirchhubel and Daniel Pallas, last month filed a petition for writ of mandate to dismiss the order revoking the license. Fahey claims there is "no substantial evidence" that the owners knew of the marijuana traffic.

Named as defendant in Fahey's writ is Russel Munro, director of the state ABC.

Hold Dance Permit On Hilltop Until Court Gives Verdict

The council will take no further action on Hilltop Lodge's application for a dance permit until a verdict is reached in superior court on the establishment's appeal of its liquor license revocation ordered by the department of alcoholic beverage control on September 2.

The council unanimously approved withholding the permit Monday night, after George Kirchhubel, co-owner of the tavern at 22 Hillcrest drive, demanded that they "act on this tonight."

Kirchhubel said that the delay in granting him dance permit was "going to deprive me of making a living. I'll have to let all my help go."

Was Tabled

A motion to hold the dance permit decision in abeyance pending superior court decision on Hilltop's appeal was tabled at the September 12 meeting, pending study of San Francisco policy in such matters.

At the outset of Monday's discussion City Attorney Frank Blum said, "There's no general policy. Each place is treated individually and the decision is based on the individual owners' actions."

"I wish the council would act tonight," Kirchhubel said. "They told me at the court house that Judge Scott hasn't even read the transcript in the Johnstone case (Continued on Page 2)

State To Build $150,000 Recreation Area At Thornton

Completion of the project would take at least three years, he estimated.

All during the interim between now and the time money is allocated the area will be patrolled, the spokesman said.

Initial clean-up and patrolling of the park will be financed through the beaches and parks maintenance fund.

The official said present planning does not call for the leasing of concession booths, but there is still a possibility this will be done.

Long Range Program

Development of Thornton Beach as a state park marks the first in a long-range state program to develop coastal recreation areas in this and other counties.

In 1945 a $150,000 fund was allocated by the state legislature for acquisition of state beaches and parks. Of this, $10,000,000 was for beaches.

Under the act appropriating this money, its allocation is subject to matching funds from the county receiving the benefits. The matching funds can be made from either money or land. In the case of San Mateo county, the Thornton beach property, appraised at $108,000, was deeded over to the state. One half the land has already been recorded in the state's name, while the other half is deeded to the state, but has not yet been accepted.

Equal Funds

Under the 1945 act, the state will equal the amount put up by the county for purchase of additional beach property in the county. This means that, by turning over Thornton beach, the county will become eligible for $108,000 in state money to purchase further beach recreation areas. The state park commission officially named the area Thornton Beach State Park on August 26, meeting in Eureka. This information had not been disclosed, however, until THE RECORD learned of the action this week. Last week the city council was considering developing Thornton beach as a fill and cover dump site, but cancelled their plans when they learned the state had title to the land.

strued in 1949. Vickers agreed, however, that doubling up on sewer lines was a violation of the present sanitation district ordinance.

Inspector's Obligation
"Since the district wasn't formed," Vickers continued, "it was the obligation of the Daly City building inspector to check the installation. The question is to determine who is responsible."

Ricco Lagomarsino, member of the firm who built the homes, said, "The tract was started by Garden Valley Corp when Robert Klassen was Daly City engineer. It's no fault of ours. We just tied in with the improvements already in."

"Why wasn't the inspection signed?" asked Vickers. "It must have been all right," answered Lagomarsino. "They turned the gas and lights on."

Verducci asked if any of Klassen's maps were still available. City Manager Howard Stites said Klassen had sold them.

City Attorney Frank Blum said he would investigate with Stites to determine who was liable.

injuries and shock. Both officers have been released from the hospital.

The accident occurred on Mission street north of Templeton avenue at 6:40 a.m. as the police car was in pursuit of an old model car weaving in and out of north-bound traffic.

According to the accident report, the police car struck a car owned by Ralph Lee Marchion, 40, a carpenter of 69 Alexander street. Marchion had driven his auto to the curb at the sound of the siren, the report said.

Marchion's car in turn struck another vehicle owned by Benjamin Sand, 57, owner of the Reliable Roofing company, 5937 Mission street. The roofer told police that he had been opening the trunk of his car when he heard the siren and stepped to the curb. All three cars were damaged.

"Yes, but we're a part of the community," retorted Gillies.

"I say, if the building's not used for recreation, we should charge plenty. If anybody can rent the building for an inexpensive price, I'd like to rent it myself," observed Councilman Del Wilson.

"Would you like to put on a boxing show?" Mr. Wilson, asked Gillies.

Mayor Verducci said the decision on the rental fees would be made at a later date, after the council had received the formal recommendations from the recreation commission. The mayor said possibly the matter could be discussed next Monday.

yet. It might be years before our case is finished."

Kirchhubel said that Capt. Engler, San Francisco acting police chief, had told him personally that the law was too severe. The tavern owner also said Engler "would personally recommend me."

"Meet With Engler"

Councilman Edward Dennis said he was going to "meet with Engler Friday and get more information on this."

"What's Engler going to tell you?" retorted Verducci.

"In other words, you tabled this motion just to pass the buck, then," Kirchhubel argued.

Dennis then moved that the tabled motion be placed before the house again. On unanimous approval of this motion, the council voted on the motion to hold the matter in abeyance, and all approved it in roll call vote.

Kirchhubel claimed he was not in any way involved in narcotics and that if he was, "I should be in jail."

Reads Munro Letter

Kirchhubel also read a letter sent to him by state liquor chief Russel S. Munro, lauding him for his suggestion that liquor licensees be educated as to identification cards, drunks, narcotics and other problems. Munro said the suggestion was "well received."

"We need education on a law we know nothing about," the tavern owner said.

In voting on the question, Verducci told Kirchhubel, "I'm emphatic on this issue and don't want to carry on a personal conversation with you."

In other action Monday night, the council granted dance permit to Tiny's Tavern, 6045 Mission street, upon recommendation of Chief Roland Petrocchi.

John Trimble, proprietor of the newly-opened night spot, The Casbah, 6192 Mission street, requested that the council revise its dance ordinance, which prohibits dancing after 1 a.m.

He said the ruling was "causing criticism" from patrons and that many of them were leaving his establishment because of the law.

He asked the time be extended to 2 a.m.

No action was taken on Trimble's protest.

to annex a strip of property on Junipero Serra boulevard failed to materialize. Ottoboni, who says he is the loan member of the council who favors giving Daly City consent to annex the land, explained he "didn't think about" bringing the matter up.

In the previous meeting, according to Ottoboni, the other four councilmen said to "forget about" the Daly City request. Under law, Daly City must gain approval of all cities within three miles of the property before annexing. Delay in securing approval and San Francisco has stymied the proceedings.

Valley Storm Drains Win Council Approval

In answer to a citizen's question about the installation of storm drains in the Valley street area, the city council Monday night came to the rescue by promptly ordering the work done.

John Souza, 98 Valley, asked when drains would be installed on his street at the corner of First avenue.

After being informed by City Manager Howard Stites that total cost of the project was $5630, less $2000 for labor, the council ordered that bids be advertised for. They will be opened at a special meeting within one month.

Engineer Cyril Weiler said the job would take about eight days.

MR. ARNAUTOFF'S COLOR LITHOGRAPH

In a recent edition we carried a feature story on Broadmoor artist Victor Arnautoff who caricatured the vice-president of this country in a color lithograph briefly on exhibit at the San Francisco Festival of Art.

The political cartoon picturing Richard Nixon as a stumpy, masked little character with a bucket of paint in one hand and a pumpkin in the other, obviously depicting the now famous Alger Hiss, Whitaker Chambers "pumpkin papers" perjury case, was banned from the exhibit with the remark that publically financed exhibits should not display political caricatures.

We ask, where do you draw the line between politics and aesthetics?

While we do not find ourselves in political rapport on Arnautoff's cartoon, nevertheless we can not fathom how any one man, or a commission of men, could undertake to determine what does, or doesn't constitute a political comment in art.

Admittedly, Arnautoff's work is not subtle, but imagine the precedent to be set by a group who would establish themselves as a board of censorship for art, or any other form of communication.

The precedent would be dangerous and in complete refutation of the rights of freedom of public comment as delineated in the bill of rights.

An observation on this so-called "problem" of political satirization in an art festival is that the majority of the viewing public is adult.

As adults, they have formed political sentiments which are as solid and unwavering as the two-party system in this country.

To assume that physically viewing a satire of this nature is going to unbalance years of an individual's political philosophy is immature and assinine.

We've seen the "Dick McSmear" lithograph and certainly haven't changed our opinion about the merits of the Hiss perjury conviction.

Persons of varying political faiths buy different mediums of literature—magazines, newspapers, novels. But mere exposure to a publication with ideas contrary to an individual's does not infect the individual with that new outlook. Usually, the reader rejects it as incompatible with his opinions and turns to a more compatible medium. Art falls in the same category. We must be exposed to art works expressing opposing ideas many times throughout the course of even a week. If the mind was so flaccid that it absorbed and accepted these impressions upon exposure, there would be no such thing as any political ideology.

We believe, with all deference to Mr. Arnautoff, that the sentiments on his art "message" are heavily stacked on the opposition side, but that certainly does not detract from his right to express this message.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

The Vista Grande Concert association opened its second series last Wednesday with a presentation of David Abel, young violin virtuoso, at the War Memorial community center. From his first selection, Vivaldi's Sonata in A Major, through his final encore, Paganini's Study No. 15, young Abel displayed a command of his instrument, reflected in subtleties of phrasing and richness of tone, that was simply astounding for one of his years. When he attains complete technical mastery of his medium and when in turn that technique is polished and refined by the years until it is used with the ease and assurance that comes with artistic maturity, well, permit us to phrase it inelegantly for the sake of effect—Wow!

The evening's program included, among other selections, Mozart's Concerto No. 5 in A Major, Bartok's Rumanian Dances and what in a facetious moment we like to term a four-artist parody, the Tartini-Kreisler Variations on a Theme of Corelli. To the Mozart, Abel brought a warm tone that positively glowed; Bartok's demands were met with an incisive bow that was fascinating to watch even though the sounds it produced (at Bartok's request, of course) put this listener's teeth on edge. One of the beauties and certainly the everlasting joy of Mozart is that he never tries to shock you. We wish we could say the same of Bartok.

Abel Accompanied
Immediately after intermission, Miss Frantz, Abel's accompanist, played the Ballade in G Minor, Opus 23, by Chopin, marked by a sensitivity commendable in so young an artist. It is always interesting to watch the different approaches taken by pianists towards their piano. There was one we heard the early part of the year who might just as well have said, "Well, boys, I'm here to play and you're here to listen, so let's get going." Then there was another who seemed almost surprised at the applause that engulfed him after each number. One felt that he was speaking to the composer through the medium of the piano, with the audience an eavesdropper to the conversation.

In her dual capacity of accompanist and soloist, Miss Frantz seemed to be having a heart-to-heart talk with her piano. She would lean forward to whisper something special and then would lean back to listen to its reply. We found this swaying back and forth a mite distracting.

Welcome Attitude
In addition to Abel's feeling for music and his skill in producing it, he displays an attitude that we find most welcome: he respects his audience, he doesn't play down to it. This is a pit into which too many artists fall, especially in selecting their encores, which are generally aimed at the lowest common denominator of musical taste. Of Abel's three encores, two were Studies for unaccompanied violin by Paganini. Let's hope that this attitude is a facet of Abel's character, and not just passing youthful idealism, and that as the years go by it will not be replaced by a contempt which he will express by playing "Turkey in the Straw."

There are two or three popularly held notions about music, the most dangerous being that the artists of today aren't as good as the artists of yesterday and that the artists of tomorrow are going to be still worse. Anyone clinging tightly to this delusion should go hear this artist.

In a word: David sure is able.

row) Bob Galli, Roland Gutierrez, Donald Tiedeman, Roger Axt, Richard Green, Susan Axt, Frank Heston, Paul Heston. In back row are James Yarbrough, Dr. Howard P. McConnell, pastor, and Oliver de Graaf, superintendent of the Sunday school.

ROCKS, RELIGION MIX AT VISTA GRANDE AVE. CHURCH

Take 25 boys and girls, mix well with rocks, stones, sub-strata and religion, and you come up with a well-rounded personality.

That's the formula administered by Dr. Howard Patrick McConnell, minister "geologist" of the Vista Grande Avenue Christian church, 101 Vista Grande avenue, Daly City.

McConnell, who has been minister at Vista Grande for three years, started his geology program at the church a year ago. The dividends have been amazing.

The minister brings a wide background of experience to his flock in the geology program. He has been active in the field nearly 15 years, having majored in geology at University of Oregon. Right next door to the University was the Oregon Bible college, so McConnell got his apprenticeship in both professions at the same time.

One Outing A Week

One of the many extra-ecclesiastical activities of the church, McConnell's geology program consists of one outing a week for the 40 boys and girls between the ages of 9 to 16 years.

During the summer the trips are taken on Wednesdays, while during school the studies are made on Saturdays.

Among sites visited by the group in pursuit of rock collections and geological knowledge are the old

Guadalupe mines and Lone Hill near Los Gatos, San Bruno mountain, Pescadero Beach, Bolinas Bay, the Merced formation underlying Daly City and its environs, and the region back of Tracy.

Assisting McConnell are James Yarbrough and Oliver deGraaf, superintendent of the Sunday school.

Careers For Some

Initially, the group is concerned with collecting rocks and studying mineral formations. So avid has been interest of some of the participants that many of the boys plan to pursue geology as a career.

Where does religion come in? As Dr. McConnell phrased it, "It works in fine. I'm able to talk on their own level, without any sense of preaching."

A youngster may be discussing with the minister the basic makeup of a rock strata, when a personal problem might be brought in.

"They bring their problems to me," he said. "But there's no preacher-congregation relationship. We just talk. Maybe about a shell, how it was formed, how old it is. The conversation is never directed toward religion. We're just practicing it in everyday life. Sooner or later we talk personally, but I never try to inflict religion on the youngsters."

Material Side

The fact that Dr. McConnell and his geological troops have some 500 cut, polished stones in their exhibit shows the material side of the endeavor.

But on the spiritual side, Dr. McConnell has 40 happy, knowledgeable hungry youngsters who are living Christianity. Dr. McConnell says that the 40 children, since the geology program was started, hardly ever miss Sunday services.

"In fact," he said, "Attendance in this youngsters' group is higher than any other single group."

He revealed that sometimes the children "wink at me" during services, which indicates the mutual understanding and informality he has with the rock students.

Dr. McConnell, before coming to Daly City, was instrumental in building the Christian church in San Mateo, and prior to that was minister at Santa Monica for 14 years.

He commutes from Woodside to his local parish, arriving at 9 a.m. and returning home at 11 p.m. at night.

Before another question could be asked, McConnell got that far-way look. "By the way," he said, "Did you know that the Merced formation extends all the way from Lake Merced valley right on through San Mateo? It's one-mile thick and made up of sand deposits."

Teals of Woodrow, who recently had a big family get-together to celebrate their 36th wedding anniversary.

The recent dance for the members of the Hillside Improvement club was a big success. Everyone had a wonderful evening and danced till the wee hours.

Many happy returns to another one of our Mothers, Mrs. Grace Rodriguez who just celebrated a birthday.

Sporting new sergeant stripes these days and might proud of them is W. J. CORE. The proud parents reside on Wilson street.

The hunters of Abbot avenue have returned. Slim Lawrence brought back a deer, while Bob Saraceni didn't get a deer this time, but brought back three chipmunks instead.

The annual Dads club dinner at Holy Angels church was a big success and all the Dads enjoyed a wonderful evening.

A party with all the trimmings helped Lynn Coleman of Delong street celebrate her tenth birthday.

A speedy recovery to Ricky Van Aken, who has been a pretty sick little guy. A severe case of bronchitis which almost went into pneumonia had the folks pretty worried. Everything is under control now so get well soon, Ricky.

The Hillside PTA meeting to be held October 19 should prove quite interesting. The executive board husbands will assume the duties of their wives and a regular meeting will be held.

The Cliff Lauers of Abbot are back after a wonderful trip to Canada. They are originally from there so they enjoyed their stay very much.

It's back to work for Nan Cantly at the Hilltop Cleaners, after spending two weeks in Chicago. Incidentally, Nan still tops the list for giving 36 pints of blood. Can anyone beat it.

PERSONALITY SKETCH . . .

"Yes, tomorrow, I'll walk down Steiner street in San Francisco for the very first time," exclaimed gracious Peggy Wood, star of CBS-TV's "Mama" show, at a luncheon held in her honor last week, where she completely captivated the assembled guests with her charm and delightful sense of humor. From the moment she stepped into the room, she simply radiated with the warmth and sincerity that she so skillfully conveys in her portrayal of "Mama," television's oldest family dramatic show which last week began its seventh consecutive year on the CBS-TV network with the first fall telecast of KPIX Friday, Miss Wood's last personal appearance in San Francisco was in 1944 in the play, "Blithe Spirit."

Based On Novel

"Mama" is based on the novel "Mama's Bank Account" by Kathryn Forbes, who lives in Burlington, and tells the story of the Hansens, a Norwegian family living on Steiner street in San Francisco in the year 1917. The program is outstanding wholesome family entertainment and many of the situations that arise are similar to experiences modern day families face every day.

Miss Wood's career sparkles with innumerable successes in the field of the theater, films and television as well as literature with publication of articles in leading magazines, a novel, "Star Wagon," and an autobiography, "How Young You Look." She has received many awards for her television portrayal of Marta Hansen, including the Rolay St. Olav medal bestowed by King Haakon of Norway. This year her program received the first TV citation ever given by the American mothers committee during the annual awards luncheon honoring the "Mother of the Year." Last year she was selected by the editors of Women's Home Companion as one of "the six most successful women of the year."

At the luncheon she related many amusing incidents in her colorful and exciting career. She possesses a great zest for living and a genuine fondness and interest in people. She described the many fine people she has met throughout her career, and in particular talked about the people of the Scandinavian nations for whom she has the greatest admiration. She has traveled to Norway three times during her six years as "Mama Hansen" and has been received with great acclaim by the Norwegian people.

San Francisco paid homage to her last week with the proclamation by Acting Mayor James Leo Halley, proclaiming "Mama Week" in San Francisco. She also received a commendatory award from the United Crusade, was honored by the S. F. Press & Union League Club at the club's "Gang Dinner," and made personal appearances on Sandy Spillman's "This Morning" show and KCBS' Jane Todd show.

As we said goodbye to the great actress following luncheon, we just had to tell her how truly charming she is both on the air and off. In her gracious way, she replied "thank you." It is truly a mark of greatness to be so famous and talented . . . and yet be so modest and sincere . . . no wonder she has endeared herself in the hearts of thousands the wide world over.

VANDALS WRECK CAR, TREES AT JEFF HIGH

Vandals broke four young trees and destroyed an aerial, side mirror and windshield on a parked car at Jefferson Union High school Friday night, according to police.

The crime was reported to police by Hiram Steve Holcomb, 52, 126 Acton street, custodian at the school. Damage to Holcomb's car, which was parked in the parking lot, was estimated to be $120.

TEAMSTUR ARRESTED ON DRUNK COUNT ON PASTOR'S COMPLAINT

A 39-year-old teamster was arrested on a drunk charge Saturday afternoon on the complaint of the Grace Presbyterian church minister, who told police that the teamster was annoying his parishioners.

Scheduled to appear in municipal court next Thursday is Ralph Clarianti, 39, of 7725 Templeton street. Clarianti is now out on $50 cash bail.

Officer James Sunderland reported to the church at Crocker and Winchester streets at 3:50 p.m. after a call was received at the police station from Dr. Thomas Whelpy, pastor. Sunderland said that he found Clarianti asleep in the rear seat of a car and that the teamster admitted he had been drinking.

READER HITS NEWS ARTICLE ON SCHOOL

Editor:

Your article, "Irate Parents Object to Double Sessions at Marathon Board Meet," was another slap in the face to the taxpayers who sat through that "Marathon" and watched outmoded school laws in operation. Those of us who have sat through many such meetings and had boards refuse to let us ask questions and refuse to recognize that their "Marathon" meetings are necessary because the laws have been designed to limit authority and not to fix responsibility at any point, might far more profitably have stayed home and spent our time with our families. People have become "irate" purely and simply because they have watched the same thing happen over and over again and newspapers have hidden the facts so effectively that people don't even bother to read them to get the facts.

I went to that meeting for the specific purpose of asking, "Why is it that the people do not know of the need for school laws that fix the spheres of responsibility instead of tying the hands of school administrators so effectively that our children are not getting the schooling they should have?" and "who is responsible for keeping the taxpayers informed when laws are in need of revision?" Neither question was answered and you failed to show the questions were asked.

Magnificent Job

During the years my children have been attending school, I have found that teachers and administrators—principals and superintendents—are doing a magnificent job under conditions that are utterly unfair to them and the children they are charged with educating. Newspapers have been most anxious to criticize things that are not worth the time it takes to write about them but refuse to print the cold facts any parent who has attended PTA meetings, panel discussions on education, worked with investigating committees, or done any one of a number of other things found out in a few months. Any parent who has bothered to read reports put out by schools and seen board meetings can see the first time he attends such a meeting that the very fact the laws were written with a view to limiting authority instead of fixing responsibility is the first change needed.

How many years has PTA been working to get better laws so today's conditions could be prevented? How many other organizations have been doing the same things and getting slapped in the face because newspapers must have headlines that twist the facts all out of shape before anyone reads the article? Less attention to names and a little more attention to fact presented without biased headlines might have prevented over a hundred deaths when the Food and Drug Administration was trying to get public attention for the need for more effective laws back in 1934. Less attention to headlines and consideration of the letters from government employees who objected to Communist meetings being participated in by government employees might have prevented the communists from getting information they wanted as far back as 1934 and 1935. Less attention to headlines and more attention to facts might have made Internal Revenue laws more effective because Revenue Agents have been lambasted unfairly for more years than newspapers would be willing to acknowledge. Now, schools all over the country are suffering because newspapers have been more interested in headlines and deadlines than in the facts the people have been asking for as long as I can remember.

More Listening
Much of the acute school difficulty could have been prevented if newspapers had been willing to reason things out with a process of who, what, when, where, why and how as the country has grown from small groups who could talk together to large communities where such small groups are ineffective without cooperation from the newspapers. Maybe the answer is that "newspapers could do a better job if editors were willing to do a little more listening and a little less yelling and blaming."

Boards of education who must regularly call school administrators to account for every detail of the operation of schools cannot do an effective job. That was clearly evidenced by every person who sat in on the "Marathon" you so kindly exploited.

School administrators, principals and teachers can only hope for continued frustration unless their time can be used to educate the students and not be continually diverted by needless interruptions by parents the headlines are riling and serving to keep riling.

That too was apparent to anyone who went to that meeting. In actual operation our school laws are placing public officials in the position of "Bob Cratchit" and the board of education and public in the position of "Scrooge." Such articles as the report of THE RECORD are only tending to aggravate the condition since they do not inform the people who are wanting to know what is happening, why it is happening and what can be done to remedy the mistakes and failures.

Asking For Facts

Pathetically the people are asking for facts! School Administrators are constantly being hampered by details they should not be expected to handle and newspaper headlines are serving to aggravate the situation by ignoring the issues and the problems and getting names instead of facts.

I hope that your consideration of this letter will alert newspapers to the need for giving the taxpayer's unbiased facts; that it will help stir up the taxpayers interest in facing the facts; that it will be willing to alert newspapers to the fact they are not giving the facts to the people in the way the people need to get them and that taxpayers throughout the country will pay more attention to facts. In the future, I hope your reporter will list the items considered under the agenda of the board of education, the points brought out in discussion and the decisions reached. The taxpayers and parents I have talked to are far more interested in the facts than in the names of the people there. Give the taxpayers a chance to get answers to some of the things they want to know.

Some of the things people have been asking are:

Who is responsible for keeping the people informed when laws are in need of revision?

Why have city, county and state planning commissions been so lax in including space for schools and other public facilities in their basic planning and zoning? What can be done to include schools in the basic plans? What is a fair price for school property?

What Has PTA Done?

What has PTA done to inform the taxpayers of the need for better laws? Where can you get the findings made by better schools committees throughout the country? What is the League for Better Schools? What findings have been made by the League of Women Voters? What are the findings made by investigating committees for various grand juries throughout the country?

Do boards of education know that there are schools of information for such boards? Are they attending or have they attended such schools of information?

Unless newspapers will give space to presenting facts gathered in the exact manner they are asked to give them people will continue to be uninformed. Until reporters and editors alike learn that rewriting facts to make a story distort them, the average citizen cannot hope to get honest facts or form honest opinions.

Thank you for your interest in arousing the people here. I sincerely hope the people will take an interest in doing what is necessary to get the advantages education can give their children if they will ask for facts and insist that the facts be published without the trimmings that make a good story.

Sincerely,
Mrs. W. H. Beck

LETTERS TO EDITOR

"Adult Delinquency" Scored By Reader

Editor:
I am writing this in protest of the display of adult delinquency that will have taken place on our city's main street at the very hour children will be on their way home from Sunday school and the people will be gathering in the churches, praying for God's Kingdom to come upon earth. This mockery of all Christ lived and died for is just another of the shameful events that is fast making Daly City (instead of the Gateway to Moral Destruction, The Gateway to Moral Destruction). I pray God will forgive all those in public office who have sanctified such an act and those who take part—I fail to see how the parents of the children of Daly City can.

In Christian indignation,

MINISTER LAUDS RECORD EDITORIAL

Dear Editor:

I wish to congratulate you on the fine editorial in the RECORD of a couple of weeks ago concerning the city council meeting. It is my belief that things can be done for the community when men act as gentlemen, speaking the truth as they see it with a due amount of courtesy. I am sure that I am speaking for the membership of the Vista Grande Avenue Christian church. We are proud of our city.

Village Notes

By Gwin Mitchell

We have everything for A to Z this week—Alexander to Zylker, that is! The Alexander is Doug, currently of Washington street, who recently turned 8. This being an important age, friends were invited to celebrate the occasion: Gary Singer, Steven and Jan Mackintosh, Claudia Fry, Kevin and Mary Terry, Linda and Donald Peters, Johnnie Davy, Jerry Krawetz and Pamela Alexander. Doug and his family will be moving to San Carlos very shortly, so this was a sort of farewell party, too.

Further notes on the baby shower Helen Zylker hosted, as promised last week! Guest of honor was Fran Stevens of San Francisco, a friend of Helen's and of Inez Sturla's since Lincoln High school days. Ten of her friends, some from as far as Sausalito and Fairfax, met at Helen's Nimitz drive home to share in Fran's happiness and to catch up on what everybody else had been doing since the last get-together.

Babies, Birthdays
If we're going to alphabetize things, B could rightfully stand for babies and birthdays, of which there are plenty always! Since we heard of a triple birthday this week, here 'tis: October 5 was the day for Jay Elliott, Ray Logan and Herb Swedberg. Jay was 5, but we haven't heard from Ray and Herb on the age question! As befitting a young man with a birthday, Jay had a party up on Bradley. The guest list was terrific—Steve Bullis, Jackie Murrish, Jerelyn Magnusson, Jimmy McDonald, Paul Chernock, Patty Eassa, Barbie Ganter, Claudia Fry, Mike Waters, Scott Bjorkquist, Jerry and Sharon Olsen, and Ley and Clarkie Elliot. At last reports, mother Peg was recuperating nicely!

C stands for a pretty girl—Betty Sue Covington. Betty Sue can be seen daily at the new hamburger cream dispensary on School street, where she is working for money for a very special project—passage to Japan to join her husband. Jimmy is stationed there courtesy of the U. S. Army. You might see Betty Sue behind the counter of the bakery at King's once in a while, too!

D stands for Tommy Dorsey. He hasn't moved into either of the Villages or anything, but we heard his "Getting Sentimental Over You" the other day, and got to wondering why it was that this tune can wind around your heart in a way that brings a lot of memories out of hiding, glad to hear an old friend again. And speaking of music, have you heard the "Brooklyn Baseball Cantata," with Robert Merrill? It's priceless as it stands, but they'll have to rewrite the ending, now that the Dodgers have won the Series!

E—temporarily out of stock.

March For Fathers
We wonder if there is a special Army march written for proud fathers? Louis Ferraro, who leads the Sixth Army Band at the Presidio, would certainly play it if there were! He and Peggy now have a son, Richard, who has moved in lock, stock and 8 lbs. 10 oz. Sisters Mary and Elizabeth (twins) and Martha are very glad of him; there's one baby who got extra mothering from all three of them!

Visitors from Alaska seem to be the fashion this month! The Larry Greens had a flying visit from the George Greens, Larry's uncle and aunt, who help the government take care of some of its Alaskan fish hatcheries. They were down this way to meet their son, who was arriving from Guam with his wife and a grandchild which the older Greens had never seen.

Larry will be lunching at Carmel Valley Inn this weekend as a guest of the management, which is honoring the artists exhibiting in the American Artists Professional League show. First appearing in Los Gatos, the show moved down to Carmel. One of the pictures Larry is exhibiting is the one sent to the National Exhibit of the League back east as a representative work of the California branch. Although we don't get too many exhibits like this, we like the ones we can see every time we go to the Greens' home. There's always at least one new picture to admire!

Scavenger's Job
Maybe it doesn't fit alphabetically, but we'd like to put a word in here about the nice job the scavengers have been doing on our street. We've heard several people remark that they appreciated the many times extra things were taken away, or the times when, worried because they had forgotten to pull the garbage can out to the curb, they found it empty even so. No doubt there are other families on other streets who will add a word of thanks too.

One of the nicest girls we know, Sharon Hazen, had a fifteenth birthday last week, and Claire Wittig, Elaine Hiller, Sherry Sisk and Roberta Beber came down to her home on Village Lane to spend a friendly evening with records, cake, and chatter. Incidentally, there will be plenty of people sorry to learn that we're going to lose the Hazens to Millbrae, but not until spring, thank goodness!

Popular Age
Another of the birthday celebrations is Russell Kerger — and 5 seems to be a popular age! 8th street neighbors no doubt noticed the bulging sides of the Kerger house when Michael Corrotto, Linda and Terry Coleman, Gregory and Billy Hamilton, Pamela Eagle, Susie Williams, Johnny and Linda Siranni, and Paul, Michael, Marisa, Julietta and Margaret Dryden all crowded in for the usual birthday feast!

The Logan-Swedberg duo of the triple birthday we mentioned at the beginning of this alphabetical effort managed to do all right on celebrations, too. Since they are next door neighbors on 90th street, it was easy for Herb and Nonette S. to join Ray and Kay L. for steaks. It was the Logan's home and the Swedberg's portable brazer, and the odor of BBQ is still strong in that area, we hear! Happy Birthday—!!!

Murphy and Midway, the M & M's of our area, had visitors from Iowa recently, and Vi had only 2 hours to take them on the deluxe SF tour. They made it, but the guests, Vi's cousin Marie Goodin, her husband Ken, and their four children, were rather dizzy from the mad dashing around corners in the best Murphy style! The Goodins have a 360-acre farm and this is the only time of year they can get away for trips, so they drove out here with New Mexico, Colorado and Los Angeles also on the list. Vi and Marie hadn't seen each other for 20 years, so the family news catch-up was as quick as the sightseeing trip!

Get Well Wishes
N could be for news, particularly about those of us who are needing get-well wishes. Flu is still going around, with Ann Jenkins, Jimmy Helmer, Vern Box and Nancy Mitchell all getting an unwanted touch of it. Verna Duste had a nasty cold, but has it whipped by now, and a bright note is the report that Helen Whitehouse is back home from her rest at the hospital. If there is anyone else we didn't hear about who needs the lift a good wish can bring, here's one—right here and now.

Marion Olsen swears she will never be the same after this month is over! Village Lane has been having a severe attack of birthdayitis, and two of the cases have been in the Olsen home. First, Tommy turned 7, and induced father Eddie to take him—and friends—out for hot dogs and to a show. Chuck Bullen, Wayne Cloonan, Bruce Herald and Gary Hazen got in on this. Then Jeanie had a

Burglars Take $1000 Loot From DC House

Close to $1000 worth of valuables were stolen between Wednesday and Saturday of last week from the vacant home of a Daly City salesman. Victim of the burglary is Louis Frewert, 128 Oliver street, who returned to his house Saturday after an out-of-town trip.

According to police, the burglars apparently entered the house by breaking a pane of glass in the front door. Reported missing were a television-radio console worth $500, a grandfather's clock, two other clocks, a lamp, vacuum cleaner, clothes and a BB gun.

4th year to make much of, so Susan Hazen, Barbara and Mike Bullen, Timmy Pappas and Marty Cloonan — complete with gifts AND mothers—came over to help her. It was unfortunate Eddie picked that day to be home sick—he found himself in the middle of such an uproar that he longed for the peace of downtown SF!

Village Lane seems to be doing well this week—there's a new resident to report, Kimberley Wendy Pappas, whose arrival has made parents George and Shirley a very happy pair. Timmy, who loves the part of Big Brother to a small girl of 7 lbs. or so, is no less glad about the whole thing. And, while we're here, a bit of information: if you want to buy a pink azalea, or find out what is the best spray for roses, don't call George. He isn't a florist up on the highway—he's a baker in San Francisco, and muffins are his stock in trade, not magnolias!

Visiting Our Block
Mrs. Betty Ringer from Denver has been visiting on our block recently. She's an old friend of Teddy Schmidt's, who once lived in Denver and now lives on Maddux drive. Of all the things Betty found to admire, the first and best was Miss Andrea Schmidt, one of the cutest babies in town. Incidentally, Ray (Andrea's proud father) is from Denver, too, so the old home town talk was three-sided!

The Sturla home on Nimitz is one busy and happy place these days. Young Kevin has made his presence known in the usual manner of new babies, and Inez and Joe are both trying to keep up with things, while Pamela and Ralph find the whole thing quite exciting. 7 lb. new brothers are Special!

John Travinsky was another one of our local fathers with a birthday to celebrate, and wife Alice gave him a party to make it an especially nice day. Neighbors Gigi and Ben Blount, Edna and Joe Spediacci, Kay and Carl Mattson, Janet and George Gigli, Barbara and Louis Rasmussen, Helen and Al Gurevitz, and Gladys and George Pavlovic came over for the evening and the cake-sharing. At first glance, when they came in the front door, they might have thought they were seeing double, but it was John's twin brother, Mike, who brought wife Connie and came to spend his birthday with John. The cake was half his, after all!

The first sailing vessel to ascend the San Joaquin river was the "Comet," used in 1846 by Mormon founders of the town of New Hope, now Newhope Landing in San Joaquin county.

The Columbia river is 1270 miles long.

News From Here & There

The Friendly Neighbors Club welcomed Ruth Huels into their group at their last meeting. Ruth, who recently moved on Abbot, enjoyed a wonderful evening getting acquainted with her neighbors and vice versa. The hostess was Mrs. Ann McNealy.

If you happen to see a certain young lady up in the clouds these days, its because she's just been elected a cheer leader for the St. John's Ursula school. So Ra, Ra, for LOIS SARACENI.

Everyone is talking about the wonderful time they had at the Fireman's Ball, which was recently held at the Colombo hall.

Colleen Lawrence was another young miss who just celebrated her seventh birthday with a spaghetti and meat ball dinner for twelve of her guests. Since Colleen has been attending a private school in the city she doesn't get to see much of her little friends, so the get together was a lot of fun for all.

If you happen to see a maroon Studebaker flitting here and there through our town its busy Frances Rigger who just received news that she will be able to join her husband in Japan any time.

Our sincere sympathy to Mrs. Sabo North who recently flew to Pueblo, Colo., to attend the funeral of her father.

The Arko family of Los Olivos has increased by 11 new mouths to feed. Their Collie dog, Royal, gave birth to 11 puppies. Last year she increased the population with ten canines. The proud owner is Charlotte Arko who says do drop in and see them.

Many happy returns to Fred Schwickhardt, principal of the Colma primary school. I hear the faculty gathered around to help him blow out the candles on his cake.

Home on furlough to visit with the folks before he reports back for overseas duty is Richard Hicks of Abbot. Dick is trying to cram in all his visiting with his former school mates and friends in just 12 days.

Another one of our local boys who will soon be leaving for overseas duty in Okinawa is Charles Olsen. Right now he is enjoying a 30-day furlough with his folks on Miriam street.

If you want to know where Hilda Heagney of Miriam street is spending most of her time these days, it's with her first granddaughter. Her daughter Beverly made her a very proud grandmother a few weeks ago.

Many happy returns to Lou Valletta, a former resident of our city. Many of you will remember him and I know the children do, as he used to drive one of the school buses here. His folks, who reside here, surprised him with a wonderful birthday party with all the trimmings.

What's this I hear about Linda Quintero playing a guitar. Spends a lot of her time down on C street with her uncle Ray, who's her teacher.

If you happen to be talking to Angie Mahood these days and she answers your questions with the word "apples," please overlook it. It's because she's been busy working at the Farmers Market selling apples. Wonder what's going to happen when she starts selling nuts?

Meet the Gillums who set up housekeeping in San Leandro in 1935

20 YEARS AGO—when Grover and Beatrice Gillum were married, they had just three appliances in their first home: waffle iron, electric iron, toaster.

TODAY—the Gillums and their daughters, Linda and Gale, have 16 appliances, including: automatic washer, vacuum cleaner, gas range, refrigerator, radio, television, sewing machine, infra-red lamp, gas water heater and gas furnace.

Today they buy $14 worth of gas and electricity for $10

...for the average unit cost is about 1/3 less than it was in 1935

The average California family today uses three times as much gas and electricity as it did twenty years ago.

And, like the Gillums, you're probably using more gas and electricity as you add more appliances and lighting to your home.

As a result, your bill may be higher. But it is far lower than it would have been twenty years ago. For the average cost of a unit of gas and electricity is down about one-third, compared with 1935. Thus, the Gillums' gas and electric bill in a recent month was $10.03. In 1935, the same amount would have cost $14.

Your own bill would probably show similar savings. Can you think of any other prices that are lower today than 20 years ago? No wonder we say...

After a thorough search of the building and several adjacent structures, firemen wrote the incident off as a "smoke scare." JEFF THUMPS CARLMONT, 22-7; MEET SAN MATEO HERE TODAY

Ready to sport their new-found defensive power and bristling with confidence after their 22-7 trouncing of Carlmont last Friday, Jefferson High school's varsity football team goes after big game today (Friday) at the Daly City field when they play host to once-vanquished San Mateo.

Today's PAL encounter starts at 3:15 p.m. San Mateo, ranked high in pre-season picks, was upset Friday by South San Francisco, 19-6. It was Jim Honeywell who earned most of the laurels Friday as the Indians swarmed over Carlmont, who some writers had picked as a favorite over the Daly City club.

Honeywell moved 86 yards on 20 running tries, hit six of nine passes and scored one touchdown for the Indians.

The Jefferson defensive established itself as rough and ready, as it held the Scots rushing attack to 79 yards.

Take Command
The Indians took command, 9-0, in the second quarter, as Carlmont handed out a two-point safety to open scoring. Ed Leveroni returned the ensuing kickoff 37 yards to the Carlmont 38, from where Jeff took nine plays to score.

The tally was costly, however, as Tex Prentice suffered a possible shoulder dislocation as he went over for the score. He may not see action in today's tilt.

Carlmont got on the board in the first half on a one-yard punch over by Ron Valentine.

35-Yard Return
Honeywell helped Jeff to their next score with a 35-yard return of Valentine's third quarter punt. The quarterback ace then fired

Montes, Colma Golf Pro, Wins Dimaggio Tournament With 68

Colma resident Larry Montes fired a three-under par 68 to annex the Joe Dimaggio golf tournament Monday at the Olympic club.

Montes bested Harvie Ward, national amateur champ, by two strokes. Ward shared the runner-up spot with Cy Pannel.

The winner, who lives at 1024 Washington with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Delfino, is an instructor at a local driving range.

Montes had identical 34s on the first nine and the back nine.

The local professional said the 68 was his best round ever at the Olympic layout.

Montes is former national Philippine open champ and two-time winner of the Japanese open.

He plans to make his home in this area.

after which Don O'Rourke bolted around end for 25 yards and the tally.

A disastrous fumble in Jefferson territory by the Scots gave the Indians their final scoring opportunity. With Honeywell commanding his legions, the Jeffs moved 86 yards on nine tries. Honeywell chewed up 26 yards at one chunk, while Jerry Howard spurred for 19. Honeywell crunched over the final yard.

O'Rourke, Prentice, Amirkhan and Herm Kihns were all solid defenders, as well as shining on offense.

THE CHIP SHOT

The importance of this stroke saving shot cannot be stressed too greatly. A good example was shown to me recently in a match between three good amateurs and myself. One of the amateurs found himself one under par at the eighth tee, yet he had not been able to hit a single green in his second shot up to that hole. Remarkable you say! I heartily agree. It was the most sensational chipping I had ever seen. He had taken only six putts on seven greens, with one chip shot going in the hole from about ten feet off the green. Watch any low scoring player, he will most always execute good chip shots, while the high scorer will usually find most of his strokes adding up around the greens.

THE FAULT:

Watching beginners or high handicap players attempt to chip the ball up to the hole, I find that their trouble in most cases is the excessive amount of wrist action used in this shot. They tend to use their hands instead of their arms. Too much hand or wrist action usually results in topping or hitting behind the ball with little accuracy.

THE CORRECTION:

First of all get your feet fairly close together, no more than four to six inches apart. Pull your left foot back slightly, with both feet to Ted Amirkhan for six yards.

pointing slightly toward the hole. The ball should be about in the middle of the stance. Set the clubhead down behind the ball with the face of the club square, that is straight not closed or open. At this point look at your wrists. The way they are now is exactly the way they should be all through the swing. No hinge action with the wrists. The wrist must be firm when you hit through the ball. Take the clubhead back just beyond the high foot, keep it low, keep your eye on the ball and follow through on past the left foot right toward the hole or whatever spot you may have picked on the green depending on the slope of the green. Keep your eyes down until the ball has either gone in the cup or has stopped rolling.

REMEMBER:

The weight should be mainly on the left leg, with your hands just ahead of the ball, in close toward your left knee. The object is to give the ball forward motion with very little loft. Give the ball a chance to go in the cup. In other words don't be short. The shorter the distance the shorter the backswing. No matter what the distance is, follow through.

NEXT WEEK:

I CAN'T HIT MY FAIRWAY WOODS.

Errors Hurt Boys Club; Drop 6-1 Tilt

Six unearned runs were the demise of Daly City Boys club Saturday, as they were smacked by St. Gabriel's Giants, 6-1, in a SF Midget league game held at Marchbanks park.

Bill Kane was the first victim of bobbles, as he pitched six innings, allowing five hits, one walk and striking out one, while three unearned runs were scoring off in-field misuses. Lefty Krohn worked the last inning and had three more unearned tallies come across, as he struck out one, and gave up one hit.

The Boys club got five hits, led by Krohn's double and single. Billy Hynes, Jeff Pearlman and Bill Kane each singled.

This Saturday Daly City, with a 2-1 record, meets Broadmoor Giants at Balboa park, starting at 1 a.m.

SCOT X-COUNTRY TEAM BEATS JEFFS

Carlmont lost the football game but they gained some consolation in the half-time cross-country meet with Jefferson last Friday, as they scored a 25-30 win.

Despite gaining the first three places, the Indians couldn't manage enough other spots to top Carlmont.

Jim Taylor of Jefferson won the event with a 11:16 clocking. Runner-up was Jeff's Bob Millard, 11:29, while another Indian, Ken Cooper, was third, 11:25.

Andy Estigoy and George Grasso finished sixth and eighth, respectively.

JEFF GRID SKED

Friday's football contest with Carlmont marked the opening of the eight-game PAL season for Jefferson High school.

Following is the Jefferson schedule for league contests:

October 14—San Mateo here.
October 21—San Jose here.
October 28—Capuchino here.
November 4—Sequoia there.
November 11—Burlingame there.
November 18—Menlo-Atherton here.
November 24—South San Francisco there.

San Mateo 11 Holds FS To 13-13 Tie

Regaining their composure after the first play was rammed back at them 65 yards for a touchdown, Jefferson high school frosh-soph football club gained a 13-13 tie with San Mateo last Thursday.

On the Mateans first running play after the kick-off, a back rambled 65 yards to score. The conversion was missed, but the Jeffs were penalized for having 12 men on the field. On the second try, the Bearcats made it.

The dismal first half ended 7-0, San Mateo advantage.

"We figured out the line wasn't splitting in the second half, and we started going," related Coach Tom Giammona who just was presented with a 7 lb. 6 oz. son.

On the kick-off Sonny Martinez ran from his 15 to his 45 yard line. Moving straight down the field, the Indians culminated their drive with a 25-yard TD pass from Paul Tapia to Pete Garcia, who snared the previous week's game-winner from Sequoia. Neil Dunsford ran over the conversion to tie it up, 7-7.

The Indians kicked off, only to have fortune smile on them, as the Mateans fumbled on their first play, with John Finley recovering on the enemy 40.

Dunsford, Tapia and Martinez combined to shuttle on down to the seven-yard line, from where Dunsford bolted over. Illegal use of the hands nullified the six-pointer and set back the Indians 15 yards.

Pushed, to fourth down, Tapia fired away and hit Martinez to re-score the TD. They missed the conversion, and held a 13-7 edge.

The Mateans tied it with one minute, five seconds left on the clock, after the Indians had held three downs on the one-yard line. Giammona hailed the work of Tapia, Martinez and Dunsford in the backfield, Garcia for his pass receiving and Adrian Thompson, Cliff Cushing, Finley and John O'Keefe in the line.

"The difference between the tie and a victory was Frank Pitto," coach Tony said.

Pitto, 230-pound middle line-man who is the cornerstone of the Jefferson forward wall, missed the game as he was fighting a fire on the coast.

"Except for that one long run, we had it over them all the way," the young mentor observed.

Three Wins Gives Luce Bowling Lead

Luce Meat took over undisputed first place in Daly City-Colma Bowling league Tuesday, slapping a three-game victory on Westlake Homes.

Tony Barsaglia and Joe De Filipo, with 533 and 503 series, respectively, were Luce's big guns. Stan White's 527 paced the losers. Luce now has a 12-3 mark.

Vince & Fred's, in a tie for first last week, moved one game off the pace as they took a pair from Starway. Tony Santos 240 high game and 589 high series were the spark for V & F and were high for the evening.
